VALENTINE DAY ON FRIDAY

History of Custom Goes Back to the Romans, But Was Not So Extensively Observed.

The feast of St. Valentine will be observed throughout the Christian world Friday and missives breathing of friendship and cupid's darts will be transferred far and wide by means of Uncle Sam's mail carriers.

It will also be observed locally by various parties and social gatherings. The valentine postcard has grown rapidly in favor and thousands of these missives will be interchanged by friends while the more expensive valentines have a deeper meaning to many.

Like many of the Saints' days in the Roman Catholic church, it was set apart partially to offset a pagan feast, while at the same time it honors the memory of a martyr.

The custom of sending valentines, can without doubt be traced in origin to a practice among the ancient Romans.

At the feast of Lupercalia, which was held on the 15th of February in honor of the great God Pan, the names of all the virgin daughters of Rome were put in a box and drawn therefrom by the young men, and each youth was bound to offer a gift to the maiden who fell to his lot, and

OBSERVED LINCOLN DAY

Members of Storer Post G. A. R. and Relief Corps Fittingly Celebrate
The Event

With the patriotic fervor that still rages in their hearts, the members of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., assisted the members of Storer Relief Corps on Wednesday evening in fittingly observing the anniversary of President Abraham Lincoln's birth. Not only was the name of Lincoln honored by the eloquent speakers of the Post, but the ladies of the Relief Corps paid a tribute to George Washington, the Father of His Country, each member contributing to what was termed a Patriotic Salad, and was as follows:

Two centuries ago Virginia was almost an unexplored wilderness; but the climate, the soil, the rivers, bays, mountains, and valleys all combined to render it one of the most attractive spots upon our globe.

Lawrence Washington, with his brother John, abandoned their home in England and purchased a large tract of land on the western banks of the Potomac. John, "the grandfather of George Washington," built him a home and married Anne Pope.

Augustine, his second son, inherited the paternal homestead. Jane Butler, his first wife, a woman lovely in character as she was beautiful in person, died leaving three little children.

In the course of a year he found another mother for his children. Mary Ball was beautiful in person, intelligent, energetic and a warm-hearted Christian.

Augustine and Mary were married on the 6th of March, 1739. On the 22d of February, 1732, they received their first-born. Little did they dream when they gave him the name of George that that name was to become one of the most memorable in the annals of time.

In childhood he was noted for frankness, fearlessness and moral courage, but never quarrelsome. After twelve years of union with Mary Ball, when George was but ten years of age, Augustine Washington died, leaving George and five other children fatherless. How the mother discharged the task of rearing her children, all true Americans of today well know.

At sixteen years of age George, then a man in character and almost a man in stature, left school. It was then his intention to become a civil engineer. In that time there was a great demand for such service. Upon leaving school, George went to spend some time with his brother at Mt. Vernon. While there he met Lord Fairfax, who was charmed with the young man, his maturity of wisdom and character.

He engaged him to explore and survey a vast territory of land which extended far away over the blue mountains. With a few attendants, the boy entered the wilderness. He worked hard, took but little rest, and in about one year the task was finished.

Though but seventeen years of age, the State of Virginia employed him as public surveyor.

Having performed the duties of surveyor so well, he was chosen adjutant general with the rank of major. He was sent by Governor Dinwiddie to demand of the French why they invaded

INDEBTEDNESS REDUCED $19,000

Annual Report of Sinking Fund Commissioners
Made Public.

As a result of the careful investigations of the board of sinking fund commissioners, the bonded indebtedness of the city was decreased by $19,000 during the year of 1912, as shown in the annual report of the commissioners, filed today with City Auditor George J. Murray. The decrease resulted from the appropriation by the city of $9000 for the sinking fund, the payment of $5000 in serial bonds, $2000 in floating indebtedness notes and the balance of $3000 which is governed by the market value of the securities held by the commissioners.

On Jan. 1, this year, a bond issue of $160,000 known as the Portsmouth and Dover railroad bonds, issued about forty years ago became due, and were paid by the commissioners. The cash to meet the $160,000 of bonds which became due was received by the sale of part of the city's holdings of New Haven railroad stock, principally and of various municipal bonds of other states together with bonds of the Portsmouth and Dover railroad issue, to the amount of $55,000 which the board had accumulated. This report will not be formally made until 1914.

The total value of the sinking fund, Dec. 31, was $40,909.01, as against $26,426.51. Of that amount as shown by the report, $405,836.00 is in cash bonds and stocks at par value and the balance of $25,073 is premium being the amount of the market value in excess of par value. It will be necessary for the city to pay $12,500 in the sinking fund against municipal bonds this year. The report shows also that it will be necessary for the water works department of the city, to pay in $17,300 to meet water bonds as they become due.

This is about the same yearly appropriation that has been asked for in the past but which for many years has been laid aside. The failure will impose a greater burden upon the city at some future date, when the bonds become due. It is understood that the present board of public works, together with the city council, will make a determined effort to meet this obligation and devise ways and means whereby it will be met in years to come. The board of sinking fund commissioners consist of Wallace Hackett, John W. Emery, and Harry E. Baynton.

Irate Female Breaks Window
Because Refused Liquor.

On Wednesday afternoon Lizzie O'Donnell and Nellie Hall, who gave their ages as 42 and 23, respectively, were arrested on Porter street by Deputy Marshal Ducker and officer Carlton, the former on the charge of drunkenness and breaking glass, and the latter woman on the charge of using profane language.

The two women went to the bottling works of Andrew O. Caswell, and the O'Donnell woman demanded a certain quantity of liquor. Mr. Caswell refused to sell to the woman, whereupon it is alleged, the O'Donnell woman beat out one of the windows. She made a forcible resistance to her arrest.

Interesting Program Arranged for Tonight's Meeting.

The regular meeting of Strawberry Bank Grange, P. O. 11, takes place this evening. Following the regular business meeting a pleasing program has been arranged by the lecturers, Mrs. William Hunter, consisting of piano solo by Miss Hattie Jamieson; address, "A Visit to London," by Mrs. Taylor; vocal solo, Mrs. Fred T. Harrison; reading by Miss Almira Gardner; discussion, "Which could we do best, without, the telephone or the streets car?"—participated in by Messrs. Benfield, Oldfield and Bert Wood.

MET WITH MRS. CHANDLER

The Ladies Aid of the Pears street church met with Mrs. Chandler, No. 4 Langdon street on Wednesday afternoon and evening with a good attendance. An excellent supper was served from 5.30 to 7 o'clock. The committee in charge was Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Tobey. A social hour followed with music and reading. Plans were made for a sale to be held the second week in March.

DIVORCE FROM DIVORCED WIFE

New Chapter in the Now Famous
Martial Tangle of Naval Engineer
James W. G. Walker

A new chapter in the Walker family tangle was opened on Wednesday at Newport. James W. G. Walker, a former civil engineer at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, has brought suit against his wife, Nina Chalm Walker, for absolute divorce. She was recently divorced from him and he had fought it in the courts to have it set aside.

Walker alleged desertion in his libel. It is a continuation of his efforts to have set aside his wife's divorce from him. His counsel, William Daine Sheffield, refused to comment on the new phase of the divorce tangle.

Newport, Boston and Washington society received a start when Mrs. Walker filed her divorce proceedings against the popular government engineer then at Newport. She mentioned in her libel, Miss Mabel Corcoran, a former Roxbury waitress, and at one time governess in the Walker family. Letters of an endearing nature, written by Miss Corcoran to Walker, figured prominently in the trial.

BRIBERY NET MAY BE WIDER

West Virginia Legislators Are Fearful of Additional Arrests.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 12.—The House and Senate of the West Virginia Legislature today decided to investigate charges of bribery against Representatives U. S. G. Rhodes, H. P. Ashbury, David E. Hill, and Nath Duff and State Senator B. A. Smith, who were arrested yesterday in connection with the building for a successor to United States Senator Clarence W. Watson.

A resolution was adopted by both branches to appoint a committee of five, two from the Senate and three from the House, to make the investigation and report at the earliest possible moment, either to the present or a future session of the Legislature.

Threats were thick today that additional arrests had been made. Prosecuting Attorney Thomas C. Connors denied the reports and at the same time intimated that developments could be expected tomorrow.

The accused legislators, who are under a $500 bond each, did not participate in the legislative proceedings today when the seventh ballot for United States senator was taken without a choice.

The vote today showed seven votes for William Seymour Edwards, as against 16 votes yesterday. Five of yesterday's 16 votes are those of men now under arrest.

Four of the five legislators will be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Charles Deering tomorrow. Delegate Ashbury has waived his right to a preliminary hearing. As the sun progressed, Walker found himself becoming decidedly unpopular with the Newport "set." As his unpopularity grew he finally decided to resign. Since his resignation, he has been living quietly at Paris, Me.

Here is an excerpt from a letter which Walker admitted had been written him by Miss Corcoran, and which was read in court:

You know, dear, that I love only you. Have you dreamed of me lately? I dreamed of you last night and that's why I'm writing you.

The court on April 25 granted Mrs. Walker her divorce on statutory grounds. It allowed Mrs. Walker $200 a month alimony and custody of the children, with the privilege of seeing them at times given the father.

Since the divorce, Walker has been every effort to have it set aside. The suit for divorce he has brought against his wife, is the latest move.

SUES HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Leavitt Wants $5000
From Dover Institution.

An interesting suit against the Wentworth Hospital and the city of Dover has been instituted by Mrs. Mary C. Leavitt of that city. The suit involves the superintendent, Grace P. Haskell and the alleged damages is the sum of $5000.

Mrs. Leavitt was a patient at the hospital in December last. She claims while there she was carelessly, cruelly and unlawfully neglected, thus suffering great injury to her health. For many days this case has been whispered quietly in Dover and if it reaches the courts will according to reports, be of no small amount of interest and bring out some surprising testimony.

Last evening the Phoebe Society of the Second Christian church gave another of their famous suppers with gratifying attendance, although not as large as on former occasions. It being Lincoln's birthday, the vestry was very appropriately decorated with flags with a picture of Lincoln hanging in the center of the vestry. The tables were all in white and prettily arranged about the room. The menu comprised: cream chicken, served from chafin dishes, salads, baked beans, rolls, pickles, olives, cream pie, assorted puddings, and pie and coffee. At the conclusion of the supper the room was cleared and the following excellent program was given.

Prize duet—Miss Phillips and Mrs. Edwards.
Selection by Ladies Trio—Misses Beckford and Miss Noy.
Piano solo—Miss Phillips.
Reading, "The Whittling Regiment," Mrs. Elmer Burdum, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Hobbs.
Vocal duet—Miss Beckford and Mr. Edwards.
Piano solo—Miss Phillips.
Remarks on Abraham Lincoln—Rev. Arnold Nafino.
Vocal Trio—Misses Beckford, Mr. Edwards, Mr. Legoe.
Mrs. W. T. Stacey was accompanist for the duet and trio.

Ice cream found a ready sale at the end of the program, despite the zero weather outside. Much credit is due the society of ladies who so well carry out the suppers and sales which they undertake and by reason of which are financially able to assist in the maintenance of the church.

CABINET FORMATION
MAY BE GIVEN TODAY

"Take the tip: Wilson's cabinet will be announced Thursday."

So said the latest gossip that was flying about the headquarters of the Senate and House. And there are a lot of people who are taking stock in the report.

Many members of Congress believe that Mr. Wilson has been holding off the announcement of his cabinet personnel until after the official declaration of his election. Therefore many believe today will see the announcement of the heads of the nine executive departments.

It is further argued that Mr. Wilson held his conference over cabinet material some weeks ago and that such conference need to be no longer a part of Mr. Wilson's daily routine. Since the conference he has had time to revolve the problems around in his mind and come to decisions. He also has, it is pointed out, had time to issue invitations to prospective cabinet members.

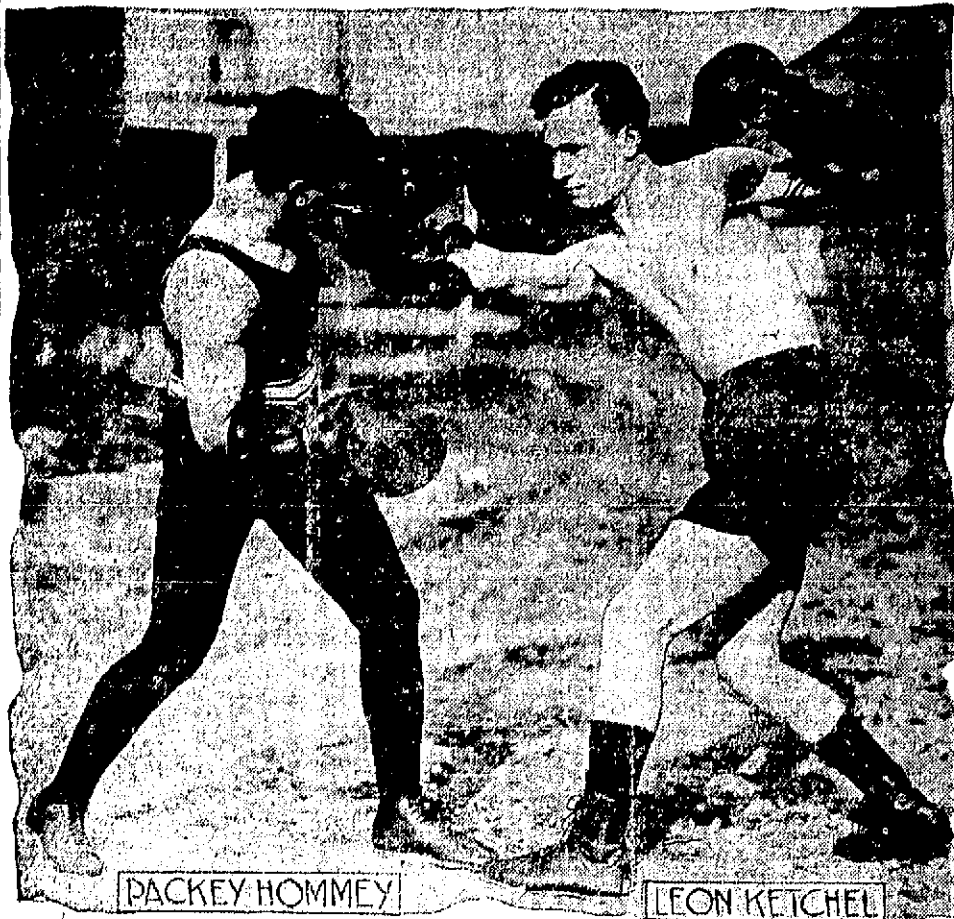

Even by those who are taking stock in this tip on Thursday, it is admitted they are without definite word from the President-elect.

"The wish is father to the thought," remark some members of the Senate or the House, who are not disposed to put much faith in the Thursday dope. There is intense anxiety around the Capitol, it is admitted, over the making up of the new President's official family and for many of them it can't be announced too soon.

There are some who think Mr. Wilson will hold off his announcement until after it is determined whether or not a Department of Labor, with a head in the cabinet, is to be established at the beginning of his administration.

The bill creating the new department has been passed by the House and is the unfinished business in the Senate, with Senator Borah, who is in charge of it as the chairman of the Senate committee on education and labor, pushing it to a final vote. The determination of this question, it is declared, might have an important bearing on the selection of the head of the present Department of Commerce and Labor.

The fact that the electoral vote has been counted in the hall of the House has served as a reminder that the President-elect is never officially notified of his election. The entering of the result of the count of the electoral vote on the journals of the two houses of Congress is made, by resolution, official proclamation as to the election of the new President and Vice President. But no official messengers carry the word to the elected officials. The official proclamation of their election, by the entering of the result of the count of the electoral ballots on the congressional journals, is held to

Young Leon Ketchel Hopes to Equal
Record of His Brother Stanley

New York, Feb. 13.—Leon Ketchel, younger brother of the late Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion of the world, is in New York, training hard for a busy campaign within the ring arena. It is the ambition of the younger brother of the famous "Michigan Assassin" to win the middleweight championship and keep the title where it belongs, in quote from him, Leon is only a waterweight at the present time—in fact, he is rather below the waterweight limit, for he weighs only 128 pounds. He is a big built boy however, and it will not be long however, before he will be forced to fight in the class which his brother ruled with iron hand. While it is true that Ketchel is only a novice, with many of the fine points of the game still to learn, he gives every promise of developing into a star. He has the game loose build, the big, broad shoulders, deep, and powerful muscled chest, with the long muscular arm, which helped his brother win his way to the top of the class. He is naturally an aggressive fighter, but at the same time he has given the finer points of the game some study and is constantly trying to learn to box cleverly. He has made great progress under the tutelage of Alty Baldwin, the clever Boston lightweight. Ketchel has done all his boxing in the smaller towns of the middle West and southwest. He has been in the ring a little more than six months and has taken part in eight battles and he has won seven of them by knockouts. Note the novel gloves the fighters are using. These were made especially for Leon Ketchel and used exclusively for sparring bouts. They protect the wrists and forearm from injury. Packey Hommey, the local waterweight is seen boxing with Ketchel.

be sufficient notice to the persons elected.

And of course it is not probable these clerks will fall to put in an appearance in Washington at noon of March 4 to take the oath of office.

A few ardent fans went to Boston on Wednesday to witness the big wrestling bout there last night.

Charles Rogers from Fall River, with a claim for the welter weight championship, although he admits that he weighs 160 pounds, is anxious for a match with Dryden. Like all the rest Rogers has a bug that he can trim Dryden, but it is a cinch that he would fall by the wayside.

In John Kilmas Dryden will meet one of the toughest propositions he has encountered. Kilmas while not having any where near the skill of Turner or even of Hanson, is a very much heavier man, weighing about 185 pounds. He is an aggressive wrestler and rather inclined to be a little rough, neither of which facts bother Dryden in the least. Kilmas recently lost to Bull Montana, but the week after won two falls from Fritz Hinson.

RECASTING BALKAN MAP
New Editions of Atlases Made Necessary

How will the new map of the Balkan peninsula be prepared after the changes made by the war?

William Stanford of the firm of G. W. Bacon & Co., the well known map publishers replied to this question today in an interview with a representative of the Pall Mall Gazette.

One of the things he explained with the work usually happens when maps have to be altered. Either the old boundaries on the existing copper plates are taken out and the new boundaries reengraved, or an entirely new map is made.

In the case of the Balkans, he said, a new map will probably be made right through from the beginning. The skeleton of such a map is indeed already in the course of preparation.

An entirely new map is specially necessary for this case because before the war all the existing English maps of the Balkans, without exception, were very old, having been prepared before the days of surveys of precision. There are, however, three of four excellent maps that have been made by the Austrian general staff. They are not absolutely complete, but where they fall there are the maps issued by our general staff, particularly those of the districts around Constantinople and Constantople.

The material for the new maps will be obtained from the treaty which will be issued by the various governments. Where alterations are made this treaty will lay down with all the necessary exactness the position of the new boundaries, perhaps along the crest of a range of hills, or a parting of rivers, to a given degree of latitude or longitude.

In the Balkans the exact line of frontier has often been difficult to follow. Take Macedonia, for example," Mr. Stanford said. "Very few people could tell exactly where the boundaries are. They do not exist on the maps. They are best defined by the basins, or valleys of two big rivers, the Vardar and the Struma.

"The same with Albania. There is no boundary line on any map. Albania is simply a district inhabited by Albanians. There again, there is a water parting with a large range of hills that seem pretty much the frontier of Albania."

Maps of course, have frequently to be altered either as the result of wars, or the settlements of boundary commissions. The war in South Africa altered the map very little, the difference being that Natal got a little more country. Boundary commissions are frequently at work in Africa and other parts of the world, and they usually issue with their reports a map of the country, so that the existing maps are very much improved as a result of their work.

"What altered the face of a map more than anything that I can remember," Mr. Stanford added, "was the work of the boundary commission between Chili and Argentina. The whole coast line and the positions of lakes were greatly altered. We had to wipe off the existing map a large piece of South America and re-engineer it."

THIEVES SMASH WINDOW WITH BRICKS

Get Away With Watches and Jewelry From Penhallow Street Pawn Shop--Captured at the Navy Yard.

A break which availed of the Metropolitan Crooks, was made on Penhallow street at 1.30 Wednesday afternoon when two marines hurled a brick through the pawn shop window of Benjamin Blankenburg and before the shattered glass had stopped rattling on the side walks they had reached through the jagged hole and grabbed all of the watches they could reach.

The crash of the broken glass was heard all over the street and everybody rushed out, but nobody hurried to telephone the police. The marines took their time about getting away and finally disappeared down Market street. There was nobody in the store at the time of the break and it was not until a friend of the proprietor got on to himself that the alarm was given the police.

The officers were sent out at once, but the marines had got a good start and by the time they had reached the toll bridge the marines were at the other end of the bridge and still going. Word was sent back to Deputy Marshal Ducker who at once notified the commanding officer at the Marine barracks to get the men if they came in the navy yard by the main gate and thinking that they might take a Dover car the police were notified to cover the arrival of the cars.

Shortly after word was received from the navy yard that two men, Corporal Gunther and Private Forgan had been arrested at the main gate and both were drunk. When searched two watches and some other jewelry were found. The two men were from the prison ship Southern guard and were turned over to the commanding officer of that ship.

Marshal Hurley at once made demand for the men and as usual in such cases the papers for the men will be forwarded to Washington and it will be some days before they are returned to this city to be arraigned. Some of the people on Penhallow street have identified the two men and Blankenburg his property. It was a cold break and for a time it created some little excitement, but once the police were called they made short work of it.

GROWTH OF PARCEL POST.

Approximately 40,000,000 parcel post packages were handled during January. At the 50 largest postoffices 19,365,433 parcels were handled in the first month of the operation of the new system and the business of the last two weeks exceeded that of the first two weeks by more than 5,000,000 packages.

Chicago exceeded all other cities in the number of parcels handled, its total being 4,163,153. New York handled 3,519,788, Boston 1,151,408, Philadelphia 1,035,000.

The present season is the dull one in postoffice business, but even if there should be no increase in the parcel post work, about 500,000,000 parcels would be handled during the first year. Some postmasters estimate that 1,000,000,000 packages will be handled this year.

From the more remote sections of the country postmasters report merchants preparing to extend their fields to the rural districts through the new system and farmers are preparing to send products to cities and towns upon the opening of the spring season.

The preliminary appropriation has been exhausted and Postmaster General Hitchcock yesterday asked for $750,000 more.

CLEANING RIBBONS

How to Make Them Look Fresh and Smooth

It is a pity to wash and iron ribbons if you can help doing so, as they take the freshness off them so much.

Of course if they are very dirty you must wash them. Put a good teaspoonful of salt into the water to set the color. Wash them in this hot salt and water with a thick lather of soap. Rinse them in cold salt and water, then lay them between two clean pieces of muslin and press them at once with a hot iron. They will come up rather stiff but not nearly as shiny and spoiled as if they did them in any other way.

If they are only a little soiled you can clean them with benzine and make them as good as new. Be very careful never to use it where there is a light or fire as benzine is very inflammable.

Pour the benzine into a basin put in the ribbons and squeeze and thump them with your hands till all the dirt comes away. Have ready a large empty bottle and wind each piece of ribbon smoothly and tightly around this. The piece will dry in a few minutes and come away looking just as good as new.

Pour the benzine back into the bottle and save it for another time. The dirt will sink to the bottom, leaving the liquid quite clear.

TURKS LOSING NOW, WILLING FOR PEACE

London, Feb. 12.—More detailed accounts of the Bulair battle received at Sofia say that it was a complete disaster for the Turks, twenty-five hundred of whom were buried by the Bulgarians, and another three thousand Turkish dead left lying scattered over the battlefield. According to reports received here nearly ten thousand Turks were wounded. The Turkish disembarkation of two divisions at Charkov occupied two days. At 10 o'clock on the morning of the third day the Bulgarians fiercely attacked them, and in the afternoon, finding themselves in danger of being surrounded, the Turks fled in a panic. They regained the shore with difficulty pursued by Bulgarian infantry and artillery. Their reembarkation was effected in great disorder under the protection of the guns of the Turkish warships. When the remnants of the Turkish soldiers were aboard the ships the flotilla steamed away.

Turks Claim Success

On the other hand the Constantinople correspondent asserts that Durr Bey made a successful landing at Charkov, compelling the Bulgarians, who opposed him, to retire. He intends to cross the Rhodope mountains and attack the Bulgarians in the rear at Kavak. Another body of Turks, according to the same correspondent, landed at Silivri under the cover of the fire of the warships. The Bulgarians entrenched near the shore inflicted heavy losses on the Turks, but were eventually driven into the interior by the guns of the ships.

While official accounts of the fighting issued at Sofia and Constantinople, are very conflicting, it seems to be certain that the Turkish arms have again met serious reverses, although Adrianople and Scutari are still held out.

Massacre by Turks Reported.

It is reported in Sofia today that the Turkish troops drove the whole male Christian population of Buyuk Chekmedje into the schoolhouse there and then massacred them. Subsequently they killed all the Christian women and children with the exception of the young girls, whom they carried off on board ship. There was no fighting yesterday either in the Galipoli peninsula or at the Tebatalla lines. The bombardment of Adrianople, however, continues.

New Peace Move Likely

The hopelessness of achieving any success in an offensive movement, combined with a lack of money, appears to have decided the Porte again to appeal to the Powers to intervene in favor of peace, and this probably has been the subject of Tefik Pasha's communications with Sir Edward Grey. It is reported that this matter was discussed at a meeting of the ambassadors at the foreign office today, but that it was decided the Powers would be unable to undertake the move because the Allies had declared that in the future they would negotiate peace only on the battlefield.

France Pressing Bulgaria.

Bulgaria having refused the request of the Powers that foreigners be allowed to leave Adrianople, the French Government has made further representation to Bulgaria of the most pressing character, demanding that French residents be authorized to quit the city immediately.

The Serban Government organ Sirena reports that the Bulgarian-Bosnian dispute has been settled by a compromise satisfactory to both parties.

WOULD REPEAL FREE TOLL BILL

Washington, Feb. 12.—Repeal of the free passage provisions of the Panama Canal act, as the "wisest and best way out of a very embarrassing and injurious situation," was urged by Senator Root today before the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals, in support of his bill for a repeal of the provision which exempts American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls.

The free passage provision was in practical effect a ship subsidy, given to "the most highly protected industry in the United States," and was being defended by the state department as a subsidy in the negotiations with Great Britain, he said. "I do not believe the remission of tolls will in any way affect transatlantic freight rates," the Senator declared.

WOULD BAR MOHAMMEDANS.

Turkish Embassy Protests New Immigration Bill.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The attention of Secretary of State Knox has been drawn by the Ottoman embassy to section three of the Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill which would prohibit the entry into the United States to "all polygamists, or persons who admit their belief in the practice of polygamy."

Should the bill become law, including this provision, it would affect the entire Mohammedan world including the Turkish nation, and the Turkish embassy here has brought the matter before Secretary Knox pointing out that it would cause grave injury not only to the liberty of conscience recognized by civilized nations, but also to the dignity and religious sentiments of the Mohammedan peoples.

The point of view suggested by the embassy would be the establishment of a distinction between those who practice polygamy and those who admit it, without practicing it, as being optionally tolerated in accordance with the doctrines of the Mohammedan faith.

Street Car Segregation.

In their endeavors to transplant the Jim Crow steam and street car regulations from certain southern states, even as far north as Virginia, to Washington and its environs, certain District of Columbia organizations would out-Herod Herod, if that were practicable. While there seems to be no disposition to disturb the arrangement existing on steam roads running south from Washington and on the various electric lines of most southern cities, the people of the District of Columbia should be no more encouraged in this projected segregation than the slave holders of the South were in their efforts to extend slavery into the territories. In the South even the respectable colored citizen prefers to pay the price of segregation rather than to provoke a conflict with the whites. But we are living in the Twentieth century and this paper, in its advocacy of the claims of decent self-respecting colored people would ask the citizens of Washington who favor segregation whether they prefer to ride in the same car with an alien or a native. In other words, whether they prefer the companionship of a Chinaman, who may have neither a desire nor intention to become an American citizen, to that of a man of the Booker Washington type—for the law is no respecter of persons, and if the proposed segregation were put through Booker Washington would have no better show than the humblest colored man who ever shouldered a load. Fortunately indeed it is that the anti-segregation idea is likely to win out at the National capital, as it should do.

Play Tag With Students.

There seems to be a new departure, or department, at Yale, but whether it is hitched to the regular academic course or is a part of the curriculum of the Sheffield Scientific school (this deponent saith not). At this distance it would seem as if the old-fashioned game of tag played by Yale students and such of the New Haven girls as manage to evade the curfew law, properly came under the head of track athletics. However that may be New Haven's more or less vigilant police force on Tuesday evening came unexpectedly upon three fair New Haveners and a corresponding number of students—presumably "freshies"—playing tag, etc., in front of a college dormitory. In the language of the late lamented A. Ward, this was "2 mitch" for the blue coats and they joined the players for a game of tag in which the slogan seemed to be "may the old boy catch the hindmost." The young men, true to the Yale tradition, quickly sprinted out of sight, but although their fair companions tried their best to follow suit they might as well have tried to get a quick get-away in a wooden overcoat as in the skirts of the period and they were easily captured. It seems that tag after sundown in New Haven is not regarded with favor, which the girls, ranging in age from fourteen to sixteen years, ascertained when committed to the House of the Good Shepherd. The young students implicated in this tagging affray will retire from public view until the local ban on tagging shall be lifted.

How Have the Mighty Fallen.

We have not forgotten the stormy days early in the Garfield administration when Conkling and Platt, United States senators from the State of New York, resigned in a huff because Garfield appointed, as collector of the port in New York, a man identified with the so-called Half Breed faction, which was violently opposed to the Conkling-Platt contingent known as the Stalwarts. At that time Conkling's term had four years to run, while Platt's had just begun. As the legislature was in session both senators hurried to Albany and vigorously lobbied for re-election, believing that re-election would be a signal rebuke to the administration. But they reckoned without the host, as Warner Miller, a Herkimer county paper manufacturer, was chosen to succeed Platt, and an ancient party named Lapham from the southern tier succeeded Conkling. Lapham died a few years afterward, and Miller made an assignment in 1908. The assignee has just reported that Miller had, approximately, a million shares of stock that were actually worthless and that the only valuable assets he found in the New York home were six pieces of furniture worth, perhaps, sixty-five dollars.

Our "National Portia."

Mrs. Belya A. Lockwood, who has become what a modern humorous writer would call an "octogenarian" was signally honored in Washington Tuesday evening when her portrait was unveiled, with an outburst of enthusiasm rarely exhibited by people high in government and social circles. Ultimately the portrait of this noted woman—called our National Portia by an enthusiastic District judge—is to hang in the Corcoran art gallery. Mrs. Lockwood in a serene old age is distinguished as being the first woman ever admitted to practice before the United States Supreme court, and as the first woman actually nominated for the presidency. Mrs. Lockwood announced that after many years of the active practice of law she had decided to retire from the bar. "I have a great deal of work ahead that I wish to devote myself to," said Mrs. Lockwood. "Therefore I shall step out of the practice of law just as soon as I can. It's a hard thing to do, you know, once you are in it, but I wish to work on problems of suffrage, universal peace, temperance and some other reforms in which I have a vital interest. June 15 I am to go to Europe as one of the twenty ambassadors the American Woman's Republic will send to carry a peace message to the women of Europe. We will go direct to Budapest and later to the other countries."

Almost as weighty as the mapping of administration policies for the next four years, which is President Elect Wilson's job, are the varied duties of William Corcoran Eustis, chairman of the inaugural committee. Mr. Eustis is planning and directing all details of the inauguration parade, actual inaugural ceremony and whatever social functions occur to mark that event. Above is a picture of Mr. Eustis and of the great grandstand in front of the treasury building, upon which several thousand school children will sit to watch the parade.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

The return of two of the most popular prima donnas on the entire roster of the company, Miss Evelyn and Miss Mary Garden, will make the coming week a notable one at the Boston Opera House. On Monday evening Miss Evelyn will come back for one performance in order that the subscription for that night may have the opportunity of hearing her as Matilda in "The Jewels of the Madonna." Mr. Paley, the favorite Italian baritone, will appear as Baruch, but otherwise the cast will be that of earlier performances. With Miss Garden, Leontine, Ambrose, the Courty and MAM. Zambello, Cilla and Dina. The beautiful Wolf-Ferrari opera has become the greatest popular success in the repertoire and at its last performance all records for receipts were broken.

On Wednesday evening Miss Garden will make her only appearance for the season as Carmen, in the like titled third opera. The role of the exotically elegant girl is one which the famous soprano has made her very own and when she introduced it here last season it was received generally to be one of the greatest in the gallery of portraits which she has created. Again associated with Miss Garden as Don Jose, will be Charles Dalmores, the French tenor. Jose Mardones will be the Toreador and Miss Fisher, De Courcy and Shantow will be others in the cast.

On Friday evening will come the first performance for this season of "Carmen's" "The Girl of the Golden West." Miss Carmen Mells, the creator of the part here, will appear in the cast and Zambello, by many considered the greatest tenor singing in opera today, will be the road agent, Dick Johnson. Giovanni Paley will again assume the part of the sheriff, Jack Gener, and others in the long list called out by the cast will be Elvira Loveland, Lilli Cilla, Edward Lankow, Ramon Blanchard, Leo Levaux, Aristodemus Shlich, Jose Mardones, Bernardo Olinick, Benigno Giamone, and Luigi Paveseola, almost the entire strength of the male portion of the company.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Evelyn will make her only appearance as Aida. After she sang the role here last season for the first time on any stage, she gave it many times in Europe and in Hamburg where she appeared to the ladies of Curnio, the great tenor said that here was the greatest Aida he ever had heard. The ladies will be Zambello and Miss Evelyn will sing "Aida." Mr. Weingartner will make one of his last appearances as conductor on this occasion. For Saturday evening a special performance of "Lauda" is announced with Miss Garden in the title part and Charles Dalmores as Julien. It will be interesting to gain the acquaintance of another laudist, although Miss Garden's portrayal is familiar to a certain portion of the opera-going public, since she sang the part here during a Handel season five years ago. As the father Mr. Mardones will recapture for the first time, following the serious accident which befell him the night of the premiere of "Don Giovanni." Miss Garden and the many others in the long list of principals will have their original roles. "Lauda" will be the first of the season's novelties to be given on a Saturday night with popular prices in the balcony. Downstairs and in the boxes subscription prices will be asked. Mr. Caplet will conduct.

On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, Miss Elva Cavallini, famous as one of the world's most beautiful women, as well as one of its greatest sopranos, will make the first appearance of her American concert tour at the Boston Opera House. Miss Cavallini has been much in the limelight of late, partly through her experiences as the bride and the former wife of Sheriff "Babe" Chandler, the New York millionaire. On her coming tour she will be assisted by Lucien Muratore, her present husband, and the leading tenor of the Paris Opera House, Albin van Breckon, the youthful American pianist, will also appear, supported by the full orchestra under Andre Caplet.

make her his partner during the time of the feast.

This custom became allied to the feast of St. Valentine, probably only through a coincidence in the dates. St. Valentine was a bishop of Rome during the third century. He possessed a most amiable disposition, and was also very successful in converting the pagan Romans to Christianity, that he incurred the displeasure of the emperor and suffered martyrdom for the faith, by order of the emperor, Feb. 14, A. D. 270.

When the saint's name was placed in the calendar of the Roman Catholic church it was given to the day of his death. This date was made a festival to offset the feast of Lupercalia, and an effort was made to substitute the names of saints for those of the feast. From this undoubtedly has descended the practice of sending love missives on that day.

It is a practice that at least means an interchange of friendliness and remembrance, if no more, and is to be commended to young and old.

THAW WORKS OVER BOOKS

Asks Matcewan Officials for Something to Keep Him Busy.

Albany, Feb. 12.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, has become a workman. With the announcement that the Legislature would appropriate $10,000 to pay former Dist. Atty. Jerome for services in Thaw's last fight for freedom came word from Matcewan that Thaw had become a book-keeper. The officials at Matcewan reported that Thaw asked to be set to work for the first time a few weeks ago. Pouring over books and figures from five to eight hours daily, it was learned, has made a changed man of Thaw. He no longer complains of confinement, nor does he criticize the officials over him.

Thaw's altered demeanor is said to date from the day, several weeks ago, when he was taken to New York to testify in the suit brought against his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, for the collection of a debt. The official in whose charge Thaw visited New York reported afterward that Thaw expressed a desire to return to Matcewan as soon as his testimony had been taken on the island. Thaw at that time had been acting as a bookkeeper for a few days, and seemed anxious to get back to his desk. The most unusual self-imposed change in Thaw's daily routine relates to his meals. Up to the time that he took up bookkeeping, Thaw used to have his three meals brought in to him from outside the asylum. He used to partake of all the season's delicacies, omitting nothing of a culinary character calculated to make life more endurable behind asylum walls.

Now Thaw eats only the prison fare, soup, roast meats, bread and coffee, such as are supplied to the other inmates.

The fact that Thaw's mother no longer makes her residence in a little cottage within a stone's throw of the asylum and undertakes few trips to Matcewan to visit him, in connection with his changed attitude, gives the impression that he proposes to give up fighting for his liberty for some time to come.

The opinion prevails here that Attorney Carmody's determination to have the law amended so as to make it easier and less expensive for the state to fight Thaw's repeated attempts at liberation may have some bearing on Thaw's evident resolve to subside.

If a bill which has the backing of Mr. Carmody becomes a law it will be possible to submit at future habeas corpus proceedings instituted in Thaw's behalf the testimony of expensive experts given at previous hearings of a similar character. Mr. Carmody proposes to have prepared a brief of such a character that at subsequent proceedings any competent attorney may use this brief in presenting the state's case against Thaw's application.

The Legislature will pass in a few days a special act appropriating $18,768.88 to meet the unusual expense incurred at the 18-day hearing before Justice Kough last summer, which resulted in a decision by Kough that Thaw was still insane. Aside from the $10,000 fee and $388.87 in disbursements that will go to Mr. Jerome, amounts will be paid as follows:

Charles F. Macdonald, attorney, $3,666.65, for services and expenses; Arthur Philat, attorney, $3,227.90, for services and expenses; employment of detectives, $50; printing, $643.66. The attorneys were paid at the rate of $15 an hour, which is said to be a standard charge by them.

RAILROAD NOTES

A three inch net placed in one of the switches at Bowdoin siding on the Maine Central railroad for the purpose of deterring the mainline passenger train, caused the derailment of the engine of a freight train from Houlton early today, and the blocking of traffic for nearly eight hours. No one was injured. It was believed that a serious accident was averted though the fact that the train had been stopped and the engine entered the siding slowly to leave a car.

The office of the division engineer is being swarmed with petitions for sidetracks to New Hampshire ponds and lakes along the line of road, to enable Massachusetts politics to get a supply of ice for the coming season.

CHIEF RAND DEAD.

Police Officer With Good Record Answers Last Call at Concord.

James E. Rand, former chief of police is dead at Concord. He was the oldest police officer in active service in New England.

Mr. Rand served as a patrolman until April 15, 1891 when he was appointed captain of the force, and on April 16, 1894 was made deputy marshal by the late Hon. Stillman Hamlin, then mayor. He was then strongly urged for the marshalship, but declined the honor, giving as a reason that he could do better work in the minor position.

On Jan. 27, 1902 he was appointed deputy marshal to succeed C. Scott Locke, resigned, and held the position until June 30, 1908, when he resigned, but at the same time he accepted an appointment as special officer and had since been an active duty at Cantonment river park and other amusement places.

He was a native of Allentown and is survived by two brothers, who were for long periods on police duty in the West. One brother who was city marshal at Oakland, California, for 25 years, is still living at 85 years of age, also a sister in Kansas.

SEALS ELECTION OF GOV. WILSON

Washington, Feb. 12--Senator Bacon, presiding over the joint session of Senate and House, proclaimed the election of Wilson and Marshall.

Democrats of the House and Senate greeted the announcement with a round of applause, a few cheers and several shrill, long rebel yells, the usual democratic indications of approval.

The galleries joined in the demonstration and the dignified Senate, led by Senator Bacon, and two tiny pages bearing the wooden caskets containing the electoral vote certificates, returned to its own classic confines.

The announcement of the California vote drew applause from the Roosevelt supporters. A real democratic outburst followed when Senator Martine, one of the tellers, announced New Jersey's 14 votes for Wilson and Marshall, and applause came from the republican side when Utah and Vermont each gave Taft and Butler four votes.

The recapitulation gave Wilson and Marshall 435 votes, Roosevelt and Johnson 58 votes and Taft and Butler 3 votes. The certificates of all the states were received and counted and there was no response to the formal demand of Senator Bacon as to whether there was objection to the recording of the vote.

Lincoln day exercises preceded the electoral count in the House.

Representatives Russell of Missouri read Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and Representative Graham of Illinois, from the district Lincoln once represented, made a speech.

JOHN KILONIS DEFEATED

Hanson Turned Trick at Concord By Using Toe Hold

Concord, Feb. 12--The toe hold proved the undoing of John Kilonis, of Manchester in his wrestling bout, at Phoenix Hall tonight against Fritz Hanson of Concord, and the Queen City grappler went under in straight falls. The first was made in 45 minutes and 20 seconds, and the other in 22 minutes, 20 seconds.

But the up-to-date Swede did not secure the victory easily, as the contest was one of the fastest ever seen on a local mat. A great crowd went with over the exciting exhibition which the men put up. Kilonis was considerably handicapped however, by a large boil on the side of his head.

In the preliminary event, Young Smith of Concord, getting two out of three falls. The victory was Smith's thirty eighth, and also the first time that he has gone to the mat in a fall since he entered the wrestling game.

KING'S PARDON STILL DELAYED

Without coming to a vote on the question of whether it would pardon Gardenia E. King under and conditions that might be imposed, the executive council yesterday referred the whole matter back to Governor Foss.

If the Governor wants to have King released, he must frame conditions that are agreeable to the council. Just what those conditions are the council has not decided. The nearest it has come to a decision says the Herald, is that some of the members expressed the belief that the conditions to be imposed should be such that executive clemency would take the form of a parole under the care of the prison commission. How many are ready to go as far as this was not made known when the council adjourned.

There was no information available at the Governor's office last night, as to whether there will be any further recommendations in the case. The majority of the council to come to an agreement upon the terms of a pardon was due largely to the protest against executive clemency that have been coming since the hearing and the feeling that there would be popular distrust of the justification of a release of King were to appear about town again looking nearly as well as ever, in spite of the serious nature of his condition which is admitted.

In discussing the matter last night, members of the council said that the difficulty of drawing up conditions, that would cover the case, rather than any lack of belief in the serious nature of the prisoner's condition, has delayed final action.

Mrs. King last night was ill at her home in Winthrop.

ROYAL

The most economical of all Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is more economical than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of genuine baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised and offered at a low price. Such are mixtures of unhealthy ingredients. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States the sale of alum baking powder is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive mineral acid, and physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label upon baking powders must show the ingredients.

UNITED STATES PROTESTS TO MEXICO

Objects to Fighting in City With Artillery--Germany Joins in Protest.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—American Ambassador Wilson and the German minister have gone to the National Palace to demand from President Madero that the battle cease.

Shortly before 5 o'clock a shell fell a hole through the iron shutter protecting the cable office and fell inside during the battle between the Federals and the rebels, which was resumed early this morning.

Porter's Hotel and the American Club, in both of which scores of American visitors and residents are gathered, are in the direct line of fire. Another heavy shell struck a building in front of the cable office about 10 o'clock, exploding away a corner of the structure.

The fire at the Mutual Life Insurance Building has been extinguished, but much damage has been caused to it by shells.

Alfonso Miranda, one of the Zapatista leaders, entered the Capital last night with 300 of his followers, who are harassing the Federal troops at various points.

The cable office has again been struck by shrapnel shells.

The British legation is under fire from the rebel position, and a battery of Federal artillery has been placed close by as a protection.

The rebels, the famous old city prison, has been thrown open by the rebels, and from 3000 to 5000 desperate prisoners let loose.

The foreign residential and commercial district, which lies in the direct line of fire from both forces, soon suffered considerable damage, and the lives of many people who had taken refuge in the more important buildings were placed in danger. The cable office was severely damaged by the shrapnel shells.

All surrounding streets are occupied by troops, and throughout the morning the whirr of the machine guns was continuous, while the infantrymen kept up a constant fire.

A dangerous feature of today's situation is the arrival with his force of Miranda, one of Zapata's chief followers, who was said in September last year to have plotted the looting of the capital.

Another danger to the city is the release by the rebels of the several thousands of criminals who were confined in the city jail.

FIGHTING STARTS EARLY

Gen. Felix Diaz Directs the Rebel Artillery Fire on National Palace in Mexico City.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—The Federal troops resumed the battle with the rebels in the streets of this city at 11 o'clock this morning with a light artillery fire.

The action soon became general, all the artillery on both sides being brought into play. The cannon fire was augmented by sweeping salvos from the machine guns, while the infantry came into action with volleys and individual shooting.

The Mutual Life Insurance Building was set on fire about 8 o'clock by a shell from a rebel field gun. It is a four-story concrete structure on the corner of the Cinco Mayo and San Juan de Letran streets.

Firing on National Palace.

The rebels under Felix Diaz began an advance on the National Palace at 5:45. The rebels seemingly are employing heavier cannon than they did yesterday.

They directed their fire toward the National Palace and to the higher buildings in the center of the business district, on many of which Federal machine guns are mounted and Federal riflemen are posted.

The contending Federal and rebel forces occupied this morning approximately the same positions as at the beginning of the fighting yesterday. Felix Diaz appeared to be prepared to offer resistance whenever the commander of the Government troops saw fit to resume hostilities.

An effort made by the Federals to isolate the rebels from their water supply was ineffective on account of the number of artesian wells in the portion of the city occupied by the rebels.

According to reports from the Rebel lines Felix Diaz utilized the night hours in further fortifying the positions he had taken up, and which even yesterday had proved strong enough to withstand the attacks of the Government troops.

The Federal force was strengthened during the night by reinforcements of both artillery and infantry, and the new arrivals took up positions along the streets leading to the scene of battle.

The streets of the capital during the hours of darkness had the appearance of a great armed camp. Sentinels challenged all passersby at almost every corner. Soldiers of all branches of the service slept on the pavements while large numbers of horses were tethered in the great Alameda Park many of the cavalrymen lying down beside them.

Many Flee From Danger.

In many parts of the city the electric wires had been cut by bullets, and this resulted in almost complete darkness. Thousands of residents took advantage of this to escape from the zone of the greatest danger. This exodus began in the early hours of the night, as soon as the people realized that firing had definitely ceased for the time being.

The lawless elements, taking advantage of the absence of police control, committed many robberies during the night. Many accepted the lure of darkness in searching the ruins of houses which had been hit by the artillery for anything of value they might contain.

Commerce has been utterly paralyzed since Sunday. The fronts of the stores are all shattered and boarded up.

Those residents who were able to do so, immediately after the invasion of Diaz into the city, hurriedly packed their homes with provisions, even at the high prices prevailing, but an enormous proportion of the poorer people who were unable to do so, the prices demanded are already suffering from hunger.

2000 WOMEN WANT MONEY BACK

They Bought Stamps at Ten Cents Each in Philadelphia, and Then the Home Supply Co. Went into Bankruptcy.

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—More than 2000 women who had invested from ten cents to $12 in credit stamps of the American Home Supply Company created excitement in the bankruptcy court here yesterday. Benchers were overruled and cushions buried and some of the women urged to the judge's bench, demanding their money back. The women carried books of stamps which had been sold to them by agents of the company for ten cents each. With a book of fifty stamps the customer was to have been allowed to buy furniture valued at $10, the balance to be paid in similar installments. The company went into bankruptcy about the time its 2000 customers were ready to redeem their stamps for Christmas gifts.

WORKED FROM AN OUTLINE

The methods of novelists at work vary; some, when seized by the divine afflatus, attack their work in a frenzy and get it done in a hurry; others through their methods exemplify the old definition of genius which has to do with that "inflame capacity for taking pains."

Frederick Palmer, whose last novel "Over the Pass," was recently published, belongs to the latter class. He first outlined the story of "Over the Pass" as the artist does who first puts in the action lines, then sketches out the figure and dresses it up in completed appearance. It took a condensed outline of 10,000 words to bring the book vividly before his mind. After he had set this aside and thought over it for a while he wrote out the novel in a draft of 30,000 words. He thought over this for a while, and then felt ready to attack the full story in its final form. After this last one was written he revised it, copied it and sent it to the press.—New York Times.

NO CHANGE IN SENATORIAL VOTE

Democrats to Hold a Caucus--More Candidates Showing Up.

Total vote 401
Necessary choice 201
Hollis 194
Pearson 161
Bass 17
Chalmers 15
Pilton 6
Woodbury 5
Carr 3

Concord, Feb. 12.—The ballot for senator today was marked by few changes. Mr. Hollis at the close was still seven votes away from the goal. The noticable thing about the ballot was the loss of three votes by the Progressive candidate, former Governor Bass. Beckman of Seabrook and Snow of Manchester, who have voted for Mr. Bass, the larger part of the time during the session, today went to Speaker William J. Britton. Harvel of Berlin, who has been a Bass supporter from the beginning, today voted for Chalmers. The Chalmers vote today dropped to 15. This loss was largely in Manchester.

The statements issued by Gordon Woodbury and Clarence E. Carr last night seem to have no effect upon the result of today's vote. Mr. Carr gathered one Democrat, Cutler of Jeffrey, who has voted for him a part of the time on previous ballots. Mr. Woodbury lost Fletcher of Greenfield, who voted for him yesterday, but gained Richard of Ward 10 Manchester.

The Democrats have called a caucus for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Hollis leaders still insist that the Democrats are still enthusiastically for him almost to a man, and it is said they are willing to allow another vote in caucus to be taken to allow the strength of their candidate and that of the opposition.

A communication has been received by the members of the legislature today from Jeremiah W. Sanborn of Gilman, announcing his candidacy for the senatorship. Prof. Sanborn puts his candidacy upon the ground that he is a farmer and that this class of citizen, which is the largest producing class in the state, has been unrepresented in either branch of congress from this state for many years.

Prof. Sanborn was a candidate for United States senator in the legislature of 1906, running in the Republican caucus against Senator Jacob H. Gallinger, and received the support of something less than 30 members.

The house judiciary committee today sent in a unanimous report upon the joint resolution endorsing the proposed amendment to the federal constitution providing for the direct election of United States senators. The same committee has reported favorably upon the bill abolishing the Nashua police court and creating a new tribunal in its place.

PREPARE TO EXTRADITE WRENN

Concord, N. H., Feb. 12.—Oreille E. Cain, solicitor of Cheshire County, has secured from Governor Feltner the request of the state of New Hampshire for the extradition of John H. Wrenn, now under arrest in Halifax, N. S., in a charge of the murder of James Stewart Hamilton, a railroad construction foreman, in Hinsdale, on the night of Feb. 5, and has gone to Washington to present the papers to the state department, the officers of which will conduct the negotiations with the British authorities for the return of the prisoner.

Accusing Fingers Point to Coffee

Last year the Government Health Office, by authority of the District of Columbia, issued an appeal to parents, asking them not to allow their children to drink coffee or tea.

They noticed that the children who drank coffee were nervous and didn't get along in their studies, and were not healthy looking.

And those who did not drink coffee or tea, were, as a rule, strong and vigorous and got along well in their studies.

It isn't so much what Doctors, Government, Nurses or the School Teachers of the country are saying about coffee, as

HOW DOES COFFEE TREAT YOU?

Every coffee drinker who is afflicted with nervousness, sleeplessness, heart irritation, indigestion or biliousness (and most of them are) should consider that

A cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine—a poison. Hence the various troubles from coffee drinking.

INSTANT POSTUM

is taking the place of coffee in thousands of homes where health is valued.

This new food-drink, made of prime Northern Wheat and the juice of Southern Sugar Cane, tastes much like high-grade Java but is absolutely pure and free from caffeine.

REQUIRES NO BOILING

Place a spoonful of the powder in a cup, pour on boiling water, stir and add sugar and cream to taste; and instantly you have a delightful drink of charming flavor.

Grocers sell Instant Postum—15 to 50-cup Tin 30c; 90 to 100-cup Tin 50c.

"THERE'S A REASON" FOR POSTUM

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

Cascaret Users Never Have Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach

It is more necessary that you keep your bowels, liver and stomach clean and fresh, than it is to keep the sewage and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and fecal gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10 cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing too.

SUFFRAGISTS START ON LONG MARCH

New York, Feb. 12.—Sixty suffragists started the march to Washington and Wilson today, and there was not a bloomer in evidence among them. But if the bloomers were not apparent, Gen. Rosalie Gardner Jones and her militant marchers for once and all put a spoke in that decidedly out-of-date notion that suffrage and winsome femininities are unrelated. She had collected for this march on the capital, such a sure enough galaxy of charm that some 200 male voters, who saw the start of the hike, loudly announced their willingness to permit suffrage in return for an invitation to join the army.

Hudson terminal was thronged with commuters when Gen. Jones, clad in a bewitching brown cloak and hood, and carrying that same stout staff with which she lugged into Albany a few weeks ago, arrived on the scene and began marshaling her cohorts.

There were 16 regulars who had sworn to make the 200-mile hike to the bitter end. Among them were the veterans, Col. Ida Craft and Surg. Gen. Layton Duck. Then in addition there was a great crowd of part-way marchers. Some of those marched on the train that took the army to Newark, where the real march began, and then marched off again. A few went from Newark to Elizabeth, where a tea was held by the local suffrage organization and where Suffragette, the yellow suffrage horse, was waiting with the yellow suffragist wagon to carry the campaign literature. It was explained that Suffragette was always the name of the horse that pulled the wagon; it didn't matter what sex or political convictions it might happen to have.

The start from the Hudson terminal building was made at sharp 9. Col. Craft spoke briefly and told every one what a great hike it was going to be. Some of the crowd cheered and the rest jeered, and the army filed into the tubes.

At Newark the forces were marshaled in Military square and Col. Craft spoke again, after which Gen. Jones did likewise. Then the fighting band blared about faced and as the brown road opened before the army on the long hike, its members fell into the swinging stride which cheerless experience on the Albany trail had taught them swollen, blistered feet and aching muscles.

DANGEROUS WORK FOR ACTORS

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 12.—While participating in a moving picture company's presentation of a Roman coliseum scene here yesterday, Jack Bonafide, the animal trainer, was attacked by Brutus, a forest-bred lion, and is in a hospital in a precarious condition.

The flesh between the hip and knee on the right leg was lacerated. Bonafide lost an arm several years ago, when the lion Baltimore attacked him.

TRYING TO FLOOD SOUTH POND

The gates on South Pond were opened on Wednesday afternoon and all the water run out of the pond at low water, with the hopes that the ice would freeze to the bottom, and the incoming tide will flood the entire pond so as to make skating.

The pond has been frozen, but the ice has been awful rough. Prayers over the remains of Augustus C. White were held at the home in Hampton Wednesday at 10 a. m., and funeral services held in Mount Auburn chapel in the afternoon. Interment was in Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge. O. W. Hain was the funeral director.

POSTMASTERS CONTRIBUTED TO THE FUNDS

Washington, Feb. 12.—Gordon H. Campbell of Little Rock, Ark., treasurer of the Republican State committee of Arkansas, told the Camp campaign fund investigating committee today that he knew nothing of the charge by Thomas J. Camp, former postmaster at Berbe, Ark., of being removed from office because he refused to contribute to the 1912 campaign, and declared "he had never sent any information to the postoffice department" concerning Camp's refusal to contribute. Campbell pointed out that the postoffice inspector's report against Camp, on the strength of which the latter's resignation was demanded, was signed Sept. 7, 1912, before he began soliciting funds. Treasurer Campbell told the committee he had solicited contributions from other postmasters in Arkansas in 1912, all the letters he sent out being similar to those sent to Camp.

"How was $39 fixed upon as the amount for Mr. Camp to contribute?" asked Senator Clapp.

"We thought there was no reason why he should not pay us about three per cent of his salary," said Mr. Campbell.

"Was the amount to be contributed specified in all cases?" he was asked.

"In most cases it was."

Christchurch, N. Z., Feb. 12.—The Terra Nova, the vessel which took Capt. Robert F. Scott to the Antarctic Continent on his way to the South Pole, and which returned there to fetch him back but instead brought the news of his and his companions' heroic death, arrived in this port this morning.

WILL GIVE A MONUMENT

London, Feb. 12.—The Lord Mayor of London has decided to open a Mansion House fund for the erection of a memorial to Capt. Robert F. Scott and his companions, who died in the Antarctic.

"The duty of providing for dependent relatives of the dead explorers, as considers, should be undertaken by the state."

AORANGI IS CUT OF REACH

Efforts to Communicate With Mrs. Scott by Wireless Have Been Abandoned.

Honolulu, Feb. 12.—Efforts to communicate by wireless with the steamship Aorangi, on which the widow of Capt. Scott sailed from San Francisco Feb. 5, in the expectation of meeting her husband, in New Zealand, was abandoned after 24 hours of futile signaling.

By 3 p. m. it was deemed certain that the steamer had passed beyond the range of the apparatus at the wireless station here, and the great stack of messages for Mrs. Scott received from all parts of the world, to be forwarded at once, remain unsent.

THANKS OF KING GEORGE

Washington, Feb. 12.—In response to his message of sympathy for the death of Capt. Scott, the Antarctic explorer, President Taft received the following:

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Portsmouth Citizens

A familiar burden in many homes. The burden of a "bad back." A lame, a weak or an aching back. Often tells you of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is Portsmouth testimony. George Byers, 112 Gates St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "My kidneys became disordered some years ago and I suffered severely from pains and lameness in my back. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and at night I was obliged to arise several times. I doctored and tried several remedies, but was unable to find relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Pharmacy. They brought the most satisfactory results. After I had finished the contents of two boxes, my trouble had disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

ROALD AMUNDSEN'S LETTER

London, Feb. 12.—A generally approved proposal has been put forward that Roald Amundsen's letter to King Haakon of Norway, which was recovered by Capt. Scott at the South Pole, should be forwarded to King Haakon on board a British battleship as symbolizing the qualities of the dead hero and the National pride felt by the British in their life and death.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET

No Hubbert Woman Has Perfect Feet—Declares Eminent Physical Cultivist—Dancing Master Recommends Sandals and Kneipp Cure—Bay State to Slow, so Colorado Suffragist Finds—Misses Vote She had in West—Old Age Pension Experts to Speak at Statehouse in Behalf of Teachers—Chadwick's "Phoenix Express" Expires Grandly Once More.

Boston, Feb. 12.—While Boston women are braving not one of them has a perfect foot, according to Harvorne Rose Pusey, physical culture expert. Others say essentially the same thing. The discussion has grown out of reports of an examination of a western university of a thousand pairs of feet and lefts not one of which passed with 100 per cent. J. Jefferson Richards, dancing master, says that women have only themselves to blame and not Dame Nature who fashions many admirable footless-touists that are later ruined by injudicious housing. This teacher sends some of his pupils daily across the Fenway in their bare feet. As they thus parade through the snow drifts they form a characteristically Bostonian procession.

Mrs. H. W. Pinkham, now of Boston but formerly of Colorado, has been telling how it hurts to be disfranchised. She finds the process quite painful and she says no few uncomplimentary things about this state of Commonwealth. "I had not realized how much misinformation, or lack of information, about suffrage existed until I came to Massachusetts," she observes. "It is because women do not know the privileges they are missing that they are not working harder to get the vote." In Denver, it appears, a young woman wheels her car out to the polling place and asks one of the ward workers to look after baby while she drops in to cast her ballot. That is about the extent to which women neglect their domestic duties while exercising their privilege of the franchise.

When at the end of the Handel and Haydn Society's performance of "The Phoenix Express" in Symphony Hall a vast audience tendered a spontaneous and enthusiastic ovation to the composer who was in the hall there was presented genuine testimony to the local appreciation of a school of composition which has grown to vigor in the past 25 years. This harmonization of ancient church Latin by the director of the New England Conservatory of Music is a work which was first sung at the Hampden County music festival, Springfield, in May, 1892. It then made a great impression by reason of the skill with which the composer combined a musical counterpart of the poem's strange mingling of religiously and sensuousness. In the years that have intervened the writing of serious music has become less of a novelty than it was in this country a quarter of a century ago. American operas, symphonies and concertos are coming to take their place in the world's standard music. In this development of a school of composition Mr. Chadwick himself has had a very prominent part both through the example of his own series of notable works and through his class room teaching which has prepared many young men and women for work in this stimulating field.

Discontinue many Bostonians who remember the future that was created by the "Phoenix" at Springfield and upon its subsequent presentation by the Handel and Haydn Society in this city have long cherished a desire to hear it revived. This desire was amply gratified by the recent concert in Symphony Hall at which, in quote from Professor Louis C. Elson, "The Phoenix Express" expired in very lovely style." The performance revealed once again, so Mr. Elson says, that Mr. Chadwick and his pupil Mr. Parker have placed America well abreast of Europe in the matter of counterpoint.

To have secured as leading speakers in behalf of teachers' retirement and secure of office two such authorities as former President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard University and Professor P. Spencer Baldwin, secretary of the Massachusetts Old Age Pension Commission, may be interpreted as arguing for the seriousness of the proposition which the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation has undertaken. Under such auspices it is evident that no undignified scramble for favors at the hands of the public is involved. Dr. Eliot's interest in problems of this kind is well understood to have been lifelong. He is himself a graduate of the Boston public school system and his father, the first mayor of Boston, was for many years the efficient head of its school committee. The president emeritus is also a past president of the National Educational Association and has been a foremost factor in furthering the advance of the educational profession. As for Professor Baldwin, no man, in all probability, is better known throughout civilization as an authority on the subject of old age pensions. As secretary of the Bay State's commission he directed the monumental task of preparing the material for a report that would cover the entire field of what has been done and what proposed in all curricula of the world. His advocacy of contributory systems in opposition to those supported solely out of general taxation has been consistent; his attitude is undoubtedly that of the average New England tax payer who would not grudge a superannuated teacher his retirement on pension but who would hold that the educator should at least contribute toward the funds that make such retirement possible. Under this leadership the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation has felt itself well justified in appealing for a large attendance of teachers and others at the two hearings at the statehouse on Feb. 14 and 24 respectively.

ETHIEL ANGLIER.

TO AID BULGARIANS.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Bakmeteff, wife of the Russian ambassador, has received a letter from the two young princesses of Bulgaria, Radka and Nadejda, only daughters of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, enclosing a photograph communication from their royal highnesses addressed to the "dear children of the United States of America."

The young princesses, aged 15 and 17 years, were left motherless on the death of Queen Marie-Louise of Bulgaria some years ago. Their communication is addressed from the royal palace at Sofia and speaks of the great sacrifice of human life during the Balkan conflict, which they say has robbed many thousands of poor innocent children and babies of their fathers.

With characteristic fervor, the young princesses write: "Think how these children and babies will miss their 'daddy' whose return from work each day they so eagerly looked forward to; think how they will miss his fond 'good night' or long for his morning greeting; think how sad will be their Sundays and holidays with no 'daddy' to play with them or take them for walks, and when you have so thought, turn to your own happy lives and think if you would not be still more happy by making some little sacrifice yourselves to help them."

The princesses state that any help given them, however small, will be used to succor the orphans of the war, and that they will send those who help them their portrait with their thanks. Mrs. Bakmeteff has conceived to act as intermediary for those who may wish to answer the communication of the young princesses.

WOULD SEND VETERANS TO GETTYSBURG

Concord, Feb. 12.—The house showed its generosity to the Grand Army yesterday when it advanced the resolution providing for sending New Hampshire soldiers to the Gettysburg celebration next summer.

The resolution provided for an appropriation of $500 to defray the expenses of sending New Hampshire veterans who fought in the battle to the celebration. The committee raised the sum of $10,000 and included all New Hampshire veterans.

WORK OF THE REVENUE CUTTERS

It Showed Thousands of Lives and Valuable Cargoes Saved During Year.

The United States revenue cutter service—the Red Cross of the sea—broke all previous records during the fiscal year, 1912. Thousands of human lives and hundreds of tempest-tossed vessels, valued with their cargoes at nearly $11,000,000, were saved from the perils of storm-swept seas by the little cutters which guard the coast of the United States in an unbroken line from Maine to Texas, and from Alaska to California, nervously alert for the "S. O. S."

The annual report of Captain E. P. Berthoff, commandant of the service, just made public, is a recitation of the thrilling adventure of this arm of the federal government, older than the American navy. A total of 260 distressed vessels were assisted during the year, and their burden of 2212 souls rescued from danger which in many cases seemed impending death. One hundred and six persons were actually saved from drowning.

Revenue cutters on the Pacific coast brought back tales of suffering among the natives of the Aleutian Islands. In the grasp of poverty and disease creating conditions, it is declared, demanding the attention and action of the federal government.

Vessels, cargoes and derelicts saved by the revenue cutter service during the year were valued at $10,711,748. Forty-five derelicts and other dangerous obstructions to navigation were removed or destroyed.

"For every dollar the government invested in the maintenance of the revenue cutter service," says Captain Berthoff, "there has been a return of $4.30 in the form of property saved from the perils of the sea, and this in addition to lives saved and other beneficial acts performed in the interests of mankind. To accomplish this work there have been 25 cruising cutters and 18 harbor vessels and launches actively employed during the year."

"The fiscal year 1912 was probably one of the most trying periods to shipping of any year during the past quarter of a century. Frequent gales swept the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, while, during the winter months, the unusually low temperature caused great danger to shipping and actual suffering to the crews on account of the ice conditions, even as far south as Chesapeake bay.

"These conditions resulted in almost constant calls for the assistance of revenue cutters. None were unheeded. In consequence, the beneficial work of the service in all its activities, during the past fiscal year, has exceeded that of previous years."

Among other unusual incidents, Capt. Berthoff told of how "piratical native wreckers" swarmed down upon the Hamburg-American steamer Prinz Joachim when with a large party of American tourists aboard, including William J. Bryan, she stranded on Atwood bay, Bahama Islands, Nov. 22, 1911. After the passengers had been removed, these "pirates," said Captain Berthoff, became insolent and aggressive, and at the request of the master of the Prinz Joachim the revenue cutter Algonquin with guns manned stood guard over the steamer and armed her crew. One of the "pirates" struck a box included in the steamer's cargo, containing some explosive, and was blown into eternity. This scared the others away.

Appropriations for four new revenue cutters are urgently recommended by Captain Berthoff—three to replace the Woodbury, Manhattan and Winona, all old and unserviceable, and one to replace the Perry, lost in the Behring sea during the summer of 1910.

He declares that the wireless apparatus now on all sea-going revenue cutters should be replaced by the most modern mechanism obtainable and a constant radio watch should be maintained. The current appropriations, he points out, permit only two wireless operators on each cutter and three are necessary for continuous service.

The functions of the revenue cutter service have grown since its establishment in 1790—113 years ago—until today they include a variety of activities ranging from the assistance of vessels in distress and the enforcement of customs and navigation laws to the suppression of mutinies.

Two minutes were quelled by the cutter during last year, one on the Italian gunboat Ferrier in Charleston, S. C. harbor, and the other on the Uruguayan bark Brema in Mobile bay.

The street department have removed three large trees on Court street, which had become so decayed that they were dangerous.
